United States Website Privacy Notice

Effective date: October 1, 2026. This notice applies only where XEducation LLC determines the purposes of processing for U.S. website visitors and business contacts. Company: XEducation LLC, Florida, 17944 SW 29TH ST HOLLYWOOD, FL 33029 US, privacy contact info@xeducation.co.

1. Information We Collect

XEducation LLC is responsible for the processing of personal information submitted through the English-language version of www.xeducation.co.

Our contact form collects information voluntarily provided by visitors, including name, company, email address, job title, country, phone number, message, and communication preferences.

Inquiries are received at info@xeducation.co and reviewed by authorized personnel. When an inquiry represents a potential business opportunity, relevant contact information may be manually entered into our customer relationship management (CRM) system for follow-up.

Visitors may also contact us through WhatsApp, which operates under its own privacy practices. We do not use advertising cookies or behavioral tracking technologies to collect personal information from website visitors.

2. How we use it

We use information to answer inquiries, prepare proposals, manage business relationships, provide requested information, operate and secure the site, meet legal obligations, and send mailing campaigns where the contact has voluntarily selected the separate marketing choice. We do not sell personal information or share it for cross-context behavioral advertising.

3. Disclosures and transfers

We may disclose personal information to contracted service providers supporting our website hosting, customer relationship management (CRM), institutional email, and mailing services, as well as when required by law or in connection with a corporate transaction.

Service providers receive information subject to appropriate contractual and security protections. Personal information may be processed outside the United States when operationally necessary and subject to applicable legal safeguards.

4. Cookies and Website Preferences

Our website does not use advertising cookies, tracking pixels, or behavioral profiling technologies to collect personal information from visitors.

XEDUCATION LLC
Issued: October 1, 2026

Essential technical cookies may be used solely to support website functionality, security, and user preferences. These cookies are not used for advertising or behavioral tracking.

Personal information is collected only when visitors voluntarily provide it through our contact forms or communication channels, as described in this Privacy Notice.

4. State rights and requests

Depending on your state of residence and which laws apply to our actual activities, you may have rights to access, correct, delete or obtain a copy of information and to opt out of certain uses, with statutory exceptions. Contact info@xeducation.co to request review. We will verify identity proportionately, respond in the time required by applicable law and explain any available appeal process when a governing law requires it. We will not discriminate for exercising applicable rights.

5. Retention, Security, and Children

We retain information as needed for the stated purposes, then for applicable legal and dispute periods. We use reasonable organizational and technical safeguards and assess notification duties if a security incident occurs. This B2B site is not directed to children under 13, and we do not knowingly collect their information through general contact forms. If a child has submitted data, a parent or guardian may contact info@xeducation.co. Educational products may have separate notices and institutional contracts.

6. Updates

We will publish updates with an effective date and provide additional notice when law requires. Questions: info@xeducation.co, 17944 SW 29TH ST HOLLYWOOD, FL 33029 US.
